

SIMS Housecalls from SBS

Do you always think there must be a better way?

Our Housecalls are designed for you to be able to grill one of our consultants in their extensive knowledge of SIMS along with gaining some valuable hints and tips on improving how you use your system.

- Get answers to all of those little questions you've always thought too trivial to bother your support team with.
- Discover new ways to work that can save you time and effort in your daily work.
- Be shown new updates to the software that you didn't know had been added.
- Identify training needs and where you could be looking next to make sure you're always working efficiently.
- Can be used with multiple staff at the school on an individual or group basis.
